PLANNING CONSULTATION RESPONSE Application No 93.51862.FUL Proposal Change of use of first-floor and attic level into a self-contained flat including alterations to ground floor to create access Address 17 Foundry Court, Doncaster, ZZ25 1WD Consultee Planning Policy (Town Centres) Thank you for consulting us on this application. Sorry for the late response. The site lies within sub-regional City Centre (Policy 1, Table 2: network (and hierarchy of centres) of the Doncaster Local Plan (adopted <redacted_date>) and also within the primary shopping area; it is on the main arterial road of Silver Street, near the junction of Silver Street, High Street, Hallgate, Cleveland Street. The site also sits in High Street (Doncaster) Conservation Area and I can see that a colleague has already responded. Chapter 8 sets out the relevant policies to be considered. Policy 23: Development within Town and District and Local Centres sets out that the defined primary shopping areas are the priority locations for new and existing shopping facilities. Generally, the policies seek to protect and maintain the existing character, function of core retail areas, and manage the mix and balance of uses within them. The policy also supports developments on upper floors. Para 8.21 of the Local Plan (adopted <redacted_date>) states that non-retail uses such as offices and homes will generally be supported on the upper floors of buildings within existing centres if they do not have a negative impact upon the operation of the existing ground floor business or the amenities of potential future occupants. In this case, the retail/commercial function of the building at ground floor will continue with an active front along Silver Street. This proposal is solely a first floor and attic level one self-contained flat conversion with kitchen and dining area on the front elevation at first floor and a bedroom in the attic area. This area of the town centre has a mix of shops and services with most establishments having late night licenses. It is very busy and can, at times, be one of the noisiest areas within the city centre. Therefore, there is a balance of various planning considerations for this proposal whether the benefits outweigh the harm; supporting a development on the upper floors for a self-contained flat in a sustainable city centre location -v- ensuring the needs of the future occupiers are met to the internal and external living standards for residential occupation which include soundproofing, outlook, ventilation and any associated amenity issues for the occupants are addressed. I note there are concerns from the Environmental Health officers I would ensure these issues are addressed before any favourable decision is made. Happy to discuss this further. Many Thanks <redacted_name> Senior Planning Officer Local Plans Team, Planning Policy and Environment
