

Consultation Reply Planning Policy

PLANNING CONSULTATION RESPONSE

Application No 91.48267.FUL Proposal Erection of a storage barn Address Roseacre House, Barnby Dun, Doncaster, ZZ38 5BX, Barnby Dun

Consultee Planning Policy and Environment

Consultation assessment and justification:

Hi Nicola

Thanks for consulting on this application for a storage barn in the countryside. Relevant planning policy is Policy 25 part 4 which covers new non-residential development in the countryside.

Policy 25 Part 4 A requires proposals to be justifiable to support a prosperous rural economy (i.e. NPPF paras 88 and 89). I'm afraid it is unclear from the information provided why this building is needed, and how it would support a prosperous rural economy. The application seems more concerned with the applicant retaining some site value – which is not a reason in itself to permit a development. In order to be satisfied this accords with Policy 25 we need more information about the site, why the barn is needed / what is it for, and why the previous barn was lost and so on. We would also need justification in relation to the size (also linked to the use / need), as policy 25 Part 4 C states: “the development is of a size (including floorspace) and scale commensurate with an existing use, or that reasonably required for a new use, and with the rural character of the location”.

I acknowledge that this is a like for like replacement of a former building and it is a barn in a rural location – but the need for it isn't clear and without understanding that we cannot be satisfied it accords with Policy 25. Therefore, it is requested that the applicants provide additional justification and show how the proposal accords with Policy 25 Part 4 A-D. More guidance on this is also provided in the Rural Development SPD.

Many thanks <redacted_name> Planning Policy Team Leader